

Word of the Week

You've heard us talking about it for weeks . . . DNow Weekend . . . but what is it? Disciple Now is a weekend focused on teaching our youth how to emphasize Christ and His ministry within our community. 2010 is no different. By setting our hope on Christ and His work from the cross, we ask the question, "What are we to do?" Therefore, this weekend's theme — DO WORK ► 2010.

My prayer for this weekend has been for us not to just say we are believers, but to show the work of Christ through our doing work. I have also prayed that this would be a marker for the students, a point in which they can hinge a future hope of God's work in their school, home and friendships.

Let us celebrate the goodness and love of Christ this morning as we worship our King through Word and song.

Christ is enough!

—Daniel