

Word of the Week

A trip to the Holy Land – where the past is our present and our future. What an honor and privilege it is to have walked where Jesus walked. How enlightening it is to have learned more about the culture He lived in. How humbling it is to have even a glimpse of what our Lord endured. How precious it is to experience the hope our Savior graced us with so long ago. How amazing it is to know that Jesus reigned in hearts past, reigns in our hearts today and can reign in other hearts tomorrow. I challenge you to help me bring Christ alive in our homes, in our communities, in our workplaces, in our world. Share His love. Share His story. Share His promise. Share Him.

Shalom,
